

Takeaways from the presentation on 25/05/20202

Pros/ Designs RCE liked:

1. Stakeholders were impressed by the way we have organized the website.
2. They have liked the option of profiling the users to allow them to share their own media on the website.
3. The design of the homepage especially showing the 17 goals and the RCE family achievement designs received good feedback.
4. The photo/video gallery option on the homepage was another positive point.
5. They liked the words such as 'customer delight', 'transparency', 'inspiring hope' and 'influencing' others as our designs were based on those terms.
6. They loved the idea that we provided the Donation button.
7. They highlighted the word 'politicians' and said that RCE would be curious about it and it could be a good area to look into.

Scope for Improvement:

1. Each RCE has its own design and specific purposes from when it was created. So highlighting that history and principles would be a good idea.
2. The option of social media buttons on the homepage to take the users directly with just one click is a good option to look at.
3. Adding an important 'conference' option on the homepage.
4. Distinguishing user types based on content.
5. Fast feedback cycles might not be achieved as organizations work through chains of commands and permissions.

Other Comments:

- RCE mentioned how United Nation University does not provide constraints rather they provide much freedom for RCE
